

Litigation and Claims Consulting

Disputes sometimes arise during or after completion of construction. GCI's highly sought after experts have a wide range of experience with windows, doors, glazing, exterior walls, waterproofing and roofing. We are experienced with the litigation process. We have testified as experts at jury trials and arbitration proceedings. More importantly, our expert advice prior to trial can help resolve disputes. We take a realistic and reasonable approach to problems and claims, while at the same time impartially looking out for the interests of our clients.

By working with all parties towards a fair and reasonable settlement, we often save our clients substantial expert and attorneys fees. While we are prepared to work to the end result of a jury or arbitration decision, we act in our client's best interest along the way in helping resolve what can be an unwanted and unpleasant situation.
